

I purchased this 1976 Corvette stingray in 1996, the same year it became an antique!

Somehow it is hard to look at a Corvette as an antique!

I had previously owned a 1932, 5 window original steel body Ford with a big 350HP 327 Chevy mill when I lived in Cleveland, OH, but I sold it when I moved here to Gainesville Florida in 1995, then, I did not have a toy to play with (WOW!) so I bought this one!!!!

This Corvette needed a great amount of TLC...It was rode hard and put away wet. I did have the time and love to restore it! The body was in good shape as original and a Florida Vette

Everything needed rebuilt, replaced, blessed, or painted, inside and out. It is 98% (continually -complete) with few mods other than it is not a stock, L-82, 250HP? HD block 350V8 with special racing suspension, nor is the tail end stock as it came that way and it is a personal preference! The paint is PPG silver metalflake by a local bodyshop.

Once a motor-head always a motor-head!
